Making the Impossible Possible

A Leader in Modularity

The Wayne Helix 5000 II fuel dispenser is built on the foundations of years of hydraulic innovation. Designed with our leading technology, we've created a dispenser that embodies real modularity, so you can benefit from a fuel pump that's the perfect fit for your forecourt. High-quality materials, best-of-the-best global components and superior nozzle availability make this dispenser the leader in its field.

Modular and Configurable

With extensive configuration options available for you to choose from and up to four fuel grades across a broad range of flow rates, the Helix 5000 II dispenser is the ideal fuel pump for your forecourt, no matter your business strategy or target customer.

Stands the Test of Time

The Helix 5000 II fuel dispenser is a model built to last. Invest once and reap the rewards, year-after-year. We've blessed this dispenser with durability, glorified it with a robust framework and gifted it with high-quality, long-lasting, field-proven components and materials, so that your forecourt will benefit from a lifetime of superior performance.

Connected

Using advanced IoT technology, this dispenser is able to easily connect with the DFS DX™ connected solutions platform, which brings digital transformation for intelligent fueling and retailing at your fuel retail site.

Low Total Cost of Ownership (TCO)

Less service interventions mean that this dispenser is able to effectively deliver a low TCO, whilst continuing to bring you reliable performance and stability. Certified meter accuracy and exceptional meter stability for minimal drift will bring incomparable performance and return on investment for your fuel business.
